BUSY DAYCalls On Gov. Harmon and

ALL BOARDS OF REVIEW

Will be Ousted and Harmon Tax
Policy Followed—Moated Question of Inaugural Ball

Columbus, Nov. 30.—Governor-elect James M. Cox passed a busy day at the capital and went home last night to prepare for a journey to Washington, where next Monday he will be at his old seat in Congress as the Representative from the Third District of Ohio. This seat he will continue to hold until he returns to this state to take the oath of office as Chief Executive, feeling that it is his duty to be at his post during the period when the dying Congress completes its program of legislation.

During his stay in Columbus he held a long conference with Governor Judson Harmon in the executive chamber of the Capitol, at which there was taken up and discussed the policy of the outgoing and incoming administrations. The various unfinished business of the present regime was fully discussed, and the outline of the messages that each expects to send to the General Assembly was made. After this meeting the Governor-elect was called upon by the three members of the Ohio Tax Commission.

The statement was made that there had been concordance of opinion upon many matters. The most important was the agreement that the taxation policy inaugurated by the Harmon administration should be pursued and carried to completion. This means that Boards of Review will be abolished and their places taken in each county by Deputy State Tax Commissioners. These officials likely will be appointed by the commission subject to the approval of the Governor.

This same single commissioner plan was embraced in the so-called Edwards bill of 1910. Because of the friction between Governor Harmon and the party organization concerning the method of appointment the measure was defeated in the House of Representatives.

The Governor-to-be, also conferred with a number of other state officials upon matters of administration and legislation. As a result of these meetings General Oliver H. Hughes of the State Public Service Commission, and Chairman William L. Finley will start for Madison, Wis., next week to look up information concerning the administration of public utility laws and the organization of a legislative reference library department.

Later it is expected that several representatives of labor will be dispatched to that center to examine into the workings of the workmen's compensation act and the conduct of the State Labor Commission, which has charge of the various functions relating to wage wars.

It was decided to send a letter to Senator William Green of Coshocton president pro tem. of the Ohio Senate, and Representative Cyrus B. Winters, of Erie county, the dean of the lower House, requesting them to issue a call for a preliminary conference of Democrats in this city on December 17. The Governor-elect will make it a point to leave Washington the day before in order to be present at this gathering.

It is the object of the leaders of the new administration to make every effort to have the permanent organization of the General Assembly effected and the standing committees appointed before the session begins on January 1. There will be a number of bills ready for the lawmakers to take up and speedily enact, and the prospects of a short session will be greatly enhanced if this work is done in advance.

This view of matters is generally endorsed by the Democratic members elect who have visited state headquarters in the past few weeks, and it is accepted that the conference will be held as requested.

As for the floor leadership the Governor-elect announced his endorsement of the plan in vogue at Washington, where chairmen of the committees are given the right of way in the handling of program measures. He also favors the limiting of debate by agreement upon important measures, and the setting in advance of a date upon which a vote shall be taken, thus minimizing the vicious practice of "dodging" ticklish questions by members lacking courage.

Mr. Cox will take possession on January 11 next, two days before his inauguration. On the night of that day he will address the dinner guests of the Jackson Club of this city.

After a day of ultimatum and conferences in which Governor-elect Cox took part, through his attorney general, Major George H. Wood of Dayton, the situation as to the inaugural ball is still far from being settled. It appeared last night to be more complicated than ever, and some Italian hand diplomacy may be needed to straighten things out.

Stripped to the skin, the whole issue centers around admissions of the hotel and clawhammer coats and accessories. The Columbus Chamber of Commerce says, "Nix on the low brows," which term designates those who do not wear evening regalia, and has the support of Columbus society, while Governor Cox insists it must be a purely democratic affair and tan shoes and soft shirts given broad sway.

Mr. Cox did not personally see Senator John E. Todd, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who did all his conferring with Major Wood.

Todd issued a statement late in the afternoon in which he said that everything is up to Governor Cox and the commercial organization does not relish butting in. "And furthermore," he added, "if Mr. Cox doesn't want the Columbus Chamber of Commerce to run his inaugural ball, all he has to do is to say so." Mr. Cox refrained from saying so, however.

As stated, the whole quarrel is over the guest list. Todd is opposed to a wide-open function. However, he said, the whole question is now up to his committees which meet Monday night to report progress and talk things over. It appears to be that if the Chamber of Commerce wants charge of the affair, it must eat a little humble pie and prepare itself for the shock that the "400" will get when the common people walk in to dance success to the new administration. Again, the Chamber of Commerce may decide to take its tin dishes and go home, in which case there will be a "dance." No one outside the organization and elite society circles seems to care which horn of the dilemma is finally chosen.

Adjutant General-elect Wood, Chairman Finley and Mr. Cox were called upon by numerous prominent citizens of this city, who had become interested as well as angered over the dispute concerning the arrangements for the ball. They advised these gentlemen that they stood ready to organize a Citizens Committee to take charge of the arrangements in the event of the refusal of President Todd to accept the conditions imposed.

There was a rumor last night that the vexed Chamber of Commerce folks had declared that if their plans were not approved there would be no ball for the reason that they had the refusal of the Memorial Hall for inaugural night and would put on a "negro minstrel" show rather than turn the edifice over to a strike-breaking Citizens' Committee.

Older residents of the capital say that in 1883, when Governor-elect George Hoadley was confronted with similar conditions, he solved the difficulty by cancelling the ball as a part of the installation ceremonies.

BURNS' MEN
KNEW MAC'
ALL THE TIME

Indianapolis, Nov. 30.—Questions why James B. McNamara, dynamitor of the Los Angeles Times building, was not arrested until five months after his identity became known, were put by attorneys for the defense at the dynamite conspiracy trial today to Raymond J. Burns, son of the detective, who managed the arrest. Raymond Burns had testified that he had learned of McNamara's guilt on Nov. 2, 1910, one month and one day after 21 persons were killed at Los Angeles, and that on Nov. 6 his operatives got in personal touch with the dynamiter, afterward shadowing him for a month in the Wisconsin woods. The arrest followed April 12, 1911.

"Why didn't you arrest him there and then," asked Attorney Harding. "Because we were trying to get the men really responsible for the explosion," answered the witness. "You mean higher up in the union?"

"Yes, sir."

"You say you knew at that time that Orde E. McManigal caused explosions at Peoria, Ill. Why didn't you arrest McManigal?"

"For the same reason. We were after the men higher up," replied the witness, and then related how he lost McManigal, who in the meantime had caused another explosion at Los Angeles, and how James B. McNamara had covered up his traces.

Burns also described shadowing McNamara and McManigal from Toledo to Detroit, where he, with three other sleuths, arrested the dynamiters April 12, 1911.

SAGGING BRIDGE WAS CAUSE OF PENNSY WRECK

Philadelphia, Nov. 30.—A coroner's jury, which held an inquest into the death of four persons in Wednesday night's wreck on the Pennsylvania railroad at Glenloch, has rendered verdict that the accident was due to the sagging of a bridge. The coroner's jury did not fix responsibility for the condition of the bridge.

Active Preparations for War Continue in Russian and Austria-
Hungarian Ranks.

London, Nov. 30.—News has been received in Vienna that peace between Turkey and the Balkan allies will be signed Monday by the plenipotentiaries at Dedagatch, according to a news agency dispatch from the Austrian capital.

London, Nov. 30.—A slight relaxation of tension in the international political situation has come today with the announcement from official sources in the city of Constantinople that the negotiations between the Bulgarian and Turkish plenipotentiaries at the village of Dedagatch, on the Tchatalajia lines, are likely to result in a speedy signature being written to the terms of an armistice.

The real menace to European peace, however, in the shape of the Austro-Serbian difficulty, still persists. The assertions of the rulers of Austria-Hungary and Russia, the two great empires most immediately concerned with the desire to maintain peace, have not put an end to their active preparations for war.

Diplomats feel that once hostilities have been definitely adjourned and the allied Balkan nations are in a position to calculate their gains, there will be a much better chance of bridging the gulf now separating Austria and Serbia.

The announcement that Montenegro has appointed delegates to participate in the eventual peace negotiations to be held at Sofia, the Bulgarian capital, is taken to indicate that the Balkan allies possess information pointing to an early settlement.

Rieka, Montenegro, Nov. 30.—The bombardment of the Turkish fortress of Scutari was resumed by the Montenegrans today. Their artillery has been reinforced. King Nicholas, with his staff, has left for Cusina, near Scutari, to superintend the operations of the besieging army. The Montenegrin government has designated three delegates to proceed to Sofia to take part in the eventual peace negotiations.

NEGRO BRUTE
LYNCHED BY SOUTHERN MOB

Cordele, Ga., Nov. 30.—Chester Williams, negro, who shot two white women near Rhine and assaulted one of them, was dragged from the court house at Macon, then lynched by a mob today. Neither of the negro's victims is dead, but it is feared one of them cannot survive.

HUNTERS TOLL IN MICHIGAN THIS SEASON IS 17

Calumet, Mich., Nov. 29.—Seventeen men and boys were shot and killed, drowned or died of exposure while hunting in northern Michigan woods during the season which closes today. Several were victims of hunters who shot at "moving houses."

Four of the victims were clad in flaming red coats, two were drowned, and one is missing, believed to have died of exposure or of shot wounds. Two are held at Orion station on a charge of murder for the death of one man.

The number of victims is slightly lower than the average season.

BRINGING LAD TO ANSWER TO MURDER CHARGE

Columbus, Nov. 30.—Governor Harmon today issued extradition papers to Chief of Police John F. McDonough of Marion for Vito Benedetto, 14, Italian, under arrest in Hornell, N. Y., for first degree murder for the killing of Tony Stiffin, in Marion last Monday night. The boy is said to have killed Stiffin because he believed the older man was having improper relations with his mother. He entered Stiffin's room while Stiffin was asleep and shot him through the head.

FIRST OFFICERS ELECTED
FOR NEWARK Y. W. C. A.;
MRS. W. C. MILLER, PRES.

The success of future activities of the Newark Young Women's Christian Association, if the splendid selections manifested in the election of the first officers of the organization may be taken as an augury, will be of a very substantial type. In a meeting that was fairly screaming with enthusiasm, yet undeniably influenced by an earnest desire to install only officers who would give their best efforts, in time and energy, to the promotion of the movement, the Board of Directors last night ratified the appointments of their nominating committee, placing Mrs. W. C. Miller in the chair as the first president of the local organization.

Other officers of the Newark Y. W. C. A., whose duties will be just as strenuous as those of Mrs. Miller, and who have shown the same splendid desire to aid young women of the city that their leader has shown during the past month, are:

Mrs. J. B. Jones, first vice president.
Mrs. Henry Buell, second vice president.
Mrs. Eugene F. Ball, recording secretary.
Mrs. C. C. Metz, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. G. B. Schmitt, treasurer.
Mrs. Annie B. Hatch, whose splendid work in the campaign committee of which she was chairman, was accorded the additional honor of being appointed chairman of the finance committee, the only general committee which received consideration at last night's business session.

The board of directors was selected at the close of a very interesting lecture on Y. W. C. A. work, delivered at the High School Auditorium by Miss Elizabeth Hughes of Cincinnati, who was one of the earlier workers in the local field. Miss Hughes impressed upon her hearers the necessity of prompt action in the development of the local work, now that the funds for the maintenance of the association are assured, and the 400 young women who heard her discussion are now anxiously awaiting the commencement of local activities. Views of interiors and exteriors of other Ohio and adjoining organizations only served to increase the desire for early acceptance of Y. W. C. A. duties in this city.

The board of directors includes eight appointees for terms of three years, two years and one year, as follows:

For three years—Mesdames G. B. Schmitt, Anna B. Hatch, E. F. Ball, William C. Miller, James R. Fitzgibbon and Charles C. Metz and Miss May Van Horne.

For two years—Mesdames Laura Jones and Louise Norpell, and Mesdames Henry Buell, A. S. Mitchell, Elizabeth Connell, J. A. Mitchell, Frank L. Beggs and E. T. Johnson.

For one year—Mesdames John Tucker, Ed. Doe, Merrill Montgomery, Frank L. Johnson, Wilson Hawkins, Edward Kibler, J. Morrison Thomas and Miss Florence Lemer.

At the close of last night's session, Newark was officially placed upon the Y. W. C. A. map of Ohio, by the pinning of a rosette over the name of this city. There are now 66 associations in the state.

The ladies identified with the movement have also requested that their personal appreciation be expressed through the press of the city to Kent Bros., florists, who sent a beautiful collection of chrysanthemums, palms and ferns for the decoration of the High School Auditorium last night.

HAMPERING
PRESS SAYS
ATTY. BECK

Washington, Nov. 30.—Former Assistant Attorney General James M. Beck filed today in the Supreme court his brief in the case brought by the Lewis Publishing company to test the constitutionality of the newspaper publicity law. The brief discusses fully the power of the federal government indirectly to censor the press through the regulation of the mails and reviews at length the struggle in England and America to free the press from restraint and the meaning of the first amendment forbidding any abridgement of the freedom of the press. Mr. Beck argues that as the constitution did not expressly give any power to regulate journalism, any attempted regulation can only be justified as a necessary and proper means to carry out some federal function.

CENTURY OLD
BUT WOMAN
JOY-RIDES

Cleveland, Nov. 30.—Melinda P. Kyle of Warren 114, probably the oldest woman in the state, took her first automobile ride today. The event came while she was visiting her granddaughter, Mrs. Hines. The ride included a tour of the shopping district. Mrs. Kyle was born almost within sight of the historic Plymouth Rock in Massachusetts. A sister recently died in Cincinnati, aged 100.

GIRL'S ESCAPE
OFFERS LOOP FOR "ARTHUR"

Chicago Junction, Nov. 30.—Lucile Cameron, former sweetheart of Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, has disappeared. Her mother Mrs. F. Cameron-Falconet, into whose custody she was placed by the federal court, last night returned to her home in Minneapolis grieving for her daughter. The association of the white girl with the negro pugilist was the cause of charges of violation of the Mann white slave act being made against Johnson. The girl was regarded as the government's most important witness.

MOORE REPORTS
GREAT ADDITION TO INSURANCE FUNDS

Columbus, Nov. 29.—Collections of fees and taxes of insurance companies operating in Ohio amounting to $534,104.04 were turned into the state treasury today by State Insurance Commissioner Moore. This was the last day for payment. The total amount paid the state by these companies each year amounts to about $1,276,000.

DISEASE TAKES THREE CHILDREN IN FEW HOURS

Dennison, Nov. 28.—Three children, whose parents live a few doors apart, died yesterday within a few hours from a disease which has been diagnosed as a form of pneumonia.

The dead are Alma Rajak, aged 2; the 6-month-old infant of Eugene Polander, and 13-month-old child of Boston Sagal.

INAUGURAL CHANGE
PLEASES WOODROW

Hamilton, Bermuda, Nov. 30.—President-elect Wilson today declared that he would agree to being sworn in as president of the United States March 4 next, but that the big ceremonies in connection with the inauguration would be held on the last Thursday in April. The president-elect has received more than 200 letters containing advice regarding legislation.

DEMOCRATIC MAJORITY IN THE
SENATE REDUCED

Washington, Nov. 30.—The appointment of Wm. P. Jackson, a Republican, as successor to the late Senator Raynor of Maryland, reduces the supposed Democratic majority in the new senate to a point very near the vanishing point.

Before Senator Raynor's death, the Democratic leaders counted on having 49 votes, or one more than a majority of 50.

Now they can count on only 48 votes with the Democratic vice president to cast the deciding vote, in case of a tie.

COAL OFFICES

FOUL ATTEMPTED

Canton, Nov. 29.—The fifth attempt to destroy the Sonnhalter Coal Mining company's plant near here, was discovered early today. Unknown persons set fire to the property. The office buildings were destroyed.

JUDGES DISMISS CHARGES AGAINST
ATTORNEY GORDON

Cleveland, O., Nov. 29.—Charges against Attorney William Gordon, Democratic Congressman-elect from the Twentieth Ohio district, of having appropriated more than his share of a legal fee were dismissed by Judges Wilks, Vickers and C. J. McTear as "unjust, untrue and without foundation."

Attorney R. L. DeRan of Tiffin, Ohio filed the charges during the last campaign. They were kept secret by the judges until after election, so that Gordon's chances would not be prejudiced.

The fee in question was for the settlement of the Martin Taylor estate here.

WIDOW INVESTED IN GOLD MINE STOCKS;
NOW IN POORHOUSE

Marion, O. Nov. 30.—Inheriting $10,000 a year on husband's death five years ago, Mrs. Valaria Hewitt today is an inmate of the Morrow County Poorhouse, a victim of "gold mine" swindlers. A bundle of certificates found in her possession disclosed she had "invested" in 12 different fake mining schemes. Attorney William F. Bruce is conducting an investigation with a view of prosecuting the swindlers.

Dr. Arthur B. Smith and Florence Caviller Smith.

Springfield, O., Nov. 30.—Dr. A. B. Smith who has been indicted at Springfield, O. for poisoning his wife will probably be tried at the January term of court. Dr. Smith has had special privileges accorded him and all his meals are brought into the jail from hotels and restaurants. The physician maintains his jaunty spirit and does not seem to be worried over the outcome of his trouble.

LUCKY FIND
BRINGS $500
TO FARMER

Frank Bickering, a farmer residing about mid-way between Newark and Columbus is $500 richer than he was a few days ago, due to the finding of one of the first issue of bonds for the payment of the Mexican war deficiency. Mr. Bickering brought the bond to Newark this afternoon, to be forwarded to the Treasury department for identification and payment of the amount due. The fact that the issue was recalled about fifteen years after its inception, and notice given of a cancellation of further interest on the principal involved, presents the Licking county farmer from securing an additional $1000.

The bond was found between the pages of an old book, secreted in the bottom of a trunk in the Bickering home. While rummaging through the attic of his home one of Mr. Bickering's children picked up the book and decided to place it in the family library. Investigation of its contents by members of the family revealed the note, signed by the Treasurer of the United States, and by President Millard Fillmore. Its authenticity was revealed by inquiry at the local banks and the paper sent at once to Washington.

It was owned by James Q. Haley, a great uncle of the finder, who died in Minnesota about twenty-five years ago, his possessions being sent to the Licking county farm at that time and placed in the attic of the Bickering home.

SUSPECT AN OPERATION

Physician in Case Died Twenty-Four Hours After Taking Poison—Nurse Is Held.

Denver, Nov. 30.—As the result of the death of Maude White, 27, a domestic, Mrs. Isabella Howe, trained nurse, is under arrest. Martin W. Trester is being sought by the police and an autopsy will be held to ascertain the cause of the death of Dr. J. F. Cherrington.

An autopsy was performed on the body of Miss White yesterday by the corner who announced that death was due to an illegal operation. Miss White who was a housekeeper for Trester, died Wednesday and her funeral was stopped by her brother, Charles W. White, who reported to the police that circumstances surrounding his sister's death warranted an investigation.

Dr. Cherrington, a prominent Denver physician attended the girl and gave peritonitis as the cause of death denying that an illegal operation was performed. The investigation started Wednesday and 24 hours later, Dr. Cherrington was found dead in his room. A bottle half filled with a white powder was lying beside the body. This is being analyzed. Mrs. Howe is being held pending further investigation. No charges have been filed against her.

GOV. WILSON TO CONSULT WITH PARTY LEADERS

Hamilton, Bermuda, Nov. 30.—President-elect Woodrow Wilson has determined not to take the advice of one man only, but of the leaders of the Democratic party generally on the formation of his cabinet and selection of men to fill important official positions. His invitation to William J. Bryan to meet him in conference at Princeton is only the forerunner of numerous invitations to other party leaders to a consultation in reference to his legislative program and appointments to office.

PATRIARCHS MILITANT
MEET HERE

The First Regiment of the Patriarchs Militant, the military degree of the Odd Fellows, held a called meeting, an initiation and a banquet in Newark Friday evening. The membership of this regiment includes Newark, Columbus Zanesville, Galion, Lancaster, Mansfield and Coshocton.

At 8:15 the parade formed in front of the Odd Fellows' Temple, the members of the regiment in full dress uniform and the initiates in chains. Dr. P. H. Cosner, lieutenant colonel of the regiment, headed the procession, he being the highest in rank in Licking county. Next came the state staff officers, Major General Perry D. Knapp of Toledo, chief of staff Colonel W. E. Dille of Warren, Assistant Adjutant General Fred H. Hahn of Toledo, Lieutenant Colonel C. Eberley of Wooster, Colonel S. Smucker of Columbus. The procession moved around the public square and through the arcade, after which it returned to the temple. Following the staff officers came Company 1 of Columbus, Company 2 of Zanesville, Company 3 of Coshocton, Company 4 of Galion, Company 5 of Mansfield, Company 6 of Lancaster and Company 7 of Newark.

After the initiatory ceremonies the regiment, numbering 160, enjoyed a banquet. The visitors who enjoyed the hospitality of the Newark order numbered almost 125.

TEACHER OF MRS.
JOHN D. DIES;
87 YEARS OLD

Toledo, Nov. 29.—Mrs. Susan Gillette Kimball, 87, who had Mrs. John D. Rockefeller as a pupil when she was a teacher at Akron, Ohio, years ago, died here today. Five generations of the family lived in the home where she died, a great-great-grandchild having been born there a few months ago. Fourteen grandchildren and twelve great-grandchildren also survive.

HANDS CRACKING AND BLEEDING

With Eczema, Watery Blisters, Disfigured and Sore. Could Not Put Them in Water, Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

St. Clair, Mo.—"My trouble began about fifteen years ago. It was what some claimed eczema. The form the disease worked under was a breaking out with watery blisters on my hands which would then dry and scale, and then would follow the trouble of cracking and bleeding, itching and burning. My hands were disfigured at the time, and sore. The trouble was very annoying, and disturbed my sleep. This last February it was ever so much worse than before. I did not do all my work on account of the condition of my hands. I could not put them in water without making them worse. I tried a lot of home remedies, also salves and ointments that claimed to be a cure for the trouble, but I did not obtain a cure.

"At last I saw the advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I sent for a sample. I thought they would cure me, as I sent for a fifty-cent box of Cuticura Ointment and some Cuticura Soap. A doctor advised me to keep ahead with the Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they cured me completely. No trace of the trouble remains." (Signed) Mrs. Mary Taylor, Mar. 29, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Be tender-faced men should use Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick, 25c. Sample free.

FEEL BULLY! HEAD CLEAR, STOMACH SWEET, BOWELS RIGHT—"CASCARETS"

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, and are all worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely dosing yourself every few days with salts, cathartic pills, castor oil and other harsh irritants?

sweeten the stomach, remove the sour undigested and fermenting food and fumes; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10 cent box will keep your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and make you feel cheerful and bully for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

THE LODGES

I. O. O. F.
Olive Branch Lodge met in regular session. Aside from the regular business the Initiatory degree was conferred on two candidates. There was some of the old time spirit in the meeting, a good many members being present.

Next Tuesday evening there will be election of Subordinate officers, also Grand officers. All brothers are requested to be present. Past Grand officers are urged to be present to vote for Grand officers. Visiting brothers are always welcome.

Jr. O. U. A. M.
Regular election of officers for ensuing term; also initiation Tuesday evening, December 3. All members are urged to be present. W. H. Parr, recording secretary.

Newark Lodge, K. of P.
Newark Lodge No. 13, met in regular session last Thursday evening, and considerable business of importance was transacted. The Knight rank will be conferred next Thursday evening, also the subordinate lodge officers will be elected, and the Past Chancellors will vote for Grand Lodge officers. It is urged that every Past Chancellor be present. The entertainment committee has promised something in the way of refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Mt. Olive Encampment.
A special effort is being made to have every encampment member present at camp Thursday evening, December 5. We have election of Grand and Subordinate camp officers. It is your duty to attend this meeting as officers for the ensuing term will be elected. We have opposition in Puckeye Encampment for representative to the Grand Encampment. We nominated a worthy patriarch, who is familiar with the duties of this responsible position and we want to elect him. In other words, we want to keep our encampment to the front. Every third degree member may vote for representative. Don't fail to be present. The R. F. degree will also be conferred on a good sized class of candidates. A general good social time followed by a banquet. Come and take interest enough to bring a member with you.

Royal Arcanum.
Fraternal insurance, such as the Royal Arcanum and kindred organizations, protect many homes and bring sunshine and gladness to hearts in gloom; but the social features should not be forgotten. Fraternity means much in its true sense. Hope Council of Zanesville has a basket ball team and expect to trim the Newark high in the near future.

Bayard Taylor will elect officers for the ensuing year at the next session.

Home Guards of America.
Newark Home No. 34 met in regular session November 27, and was favored with a visit from two members from Zanesville Home No. 35. A number of applications were received. Officers were nominated for the coming election which will take place December 1. On November 20 a new class of candidates were initiated under the good work of Bro. Mulderig and wife. On the evening of December 2d the degree team and members of Home 34 will go to Zanesville to attend the meeting of Home 35 and initiate a class of candidates.

Dist. Mulderig and wife are here to spend several weeks with Newark Home. Let the members put forth a harmonious and united effort in assisting Bro. Mulderig in securing new members. Bro. Mulderig is taking quite an interest in the affairs of this Home and we trust every member will rally to his support. On December 4th will be our next meeting. At the close of the meeting refreshments will be served to the members.

Daughters of Veterans.
The Daughters of Veterans met Tuesday evening with the president, Miss Bessie Dawson in the chair. Most of the officers responded to roll call. Several interesting papers from state department were read by the presiding secretary and much enjoyed by all. In commemoration of Thanksgiving day the order decided to send flowers to the sick comrades, trusting it would add a touch of good cheer to the sick room. We never weary of doing for these, our patriotic fathers. One interesting feature of the business hour, was the nomination of new officers for the coming year, which was done with the usual good feeling that generally prevails. The next meeting will be December 10. The new officers will be elected so we most earnestly desire a full attendance. Let every member be present.

Royal Neighbors.
Daisy Camp met Wednesday evening with a fine attendance and all had some good suggestion to offer for the welfare of the camp. The applications of Eleanor Hughes, Emily Peck and Katherine Schmitt were balloted on and accepted for benefit membership. The marshals found Clara Woolees and Lulu Woolees waiting in the reception room to be admitted into the mysteries of the society. Daisy Camp has pledged support to the Y. W. C. A. home. The meeting night of the camp has been changed from the second and fourth Wednesday evenings to the first and third Friday evening. The next regular meeting will be December 6 at 7:30 o'clock at which time the election of officers will take place.

Roland Lodge, K. of P.
At the last regular meeting of Roland lodge, No. 380, K. of P. included in the goodly number present were 18 Past Chancellors, which shows the interest still retained by those who have passed through the chairs. An announcement that was received with pleasure by all present was the one that the sick list is now clear, the first time this has happened for many a day. While Brother Gardner is still laid up—and has been for several months, and perhaps will be for some time yet—and under the care of the lodge, his case is not included. The Knight rank was conferred upon one Esquire in full form. First nomination of officers for the ensuing term brought out several candidates for K. of R. & S., Inner Guard and Outer Guard, and some friendly rivalry is now on for these positions.

Next Tuesday evening the Page rank will be conferred, and the second nomination of officers and election will be held. A large crowd is expected. Incidentally Bro. J. F. Pfeiffer as chairman of the entertainment committee announces that there will be something doing in the eating line. Nuf sed. At this time also will occur the election for Grand Lodge officers, and all Past Chancellors are earnestly urged to be on hand to vote.

"A Million in 1914"—This is one of the ambitions of Supreme Chancellor Carling for his term. Will you help to make it a reality? Go into the community and preach the gospel of fraternity as exemplified by Pythian Knighthood. Carry an application blank with you, and some literature of the order. Ask your Grand Lodge office for a supply. Invite your friends to join this great patriotic fraternity. Membership in the Knights of Pythias in the service of a larger brotherhood, can pay the best dividends of your time, your service and your money. Try it.

K. O. T. M.
Octagon tent will meet in regular session Wednesday evening, December 4. A good turnout is desired, for it is the annual election of officers. Come help to re-elect them if you are pleased or satisfied with them—that is providing they are willing—and if they are not then help to select some one else. Octagon tent is steadily growing and is among the first thirty tents of the state. There are more than 550 tents in the state, with about 40,000 members.

Any candidates that have been examined will be obligated Wednesday evening and given the regular work at a later date, as we will need the time for other business.

Honorable Sir Knights, come Wednesday evening and bring a Sir Knight with you.

The R. K. would like to see you this Saturday evening at the office.

KA-TAR-NO

THE OLD-TIME PERUNA
It is estimated that a million households made constant use of Peruna ten years ago. A million households would mean five million people. They relied upon Peruna as the remedy for catarrhal and climatic diseases.

About six years ago came the Revised Peruna. It was not the same as the old Peruna. A good remedy it was, but not the same. Many people were disappointed. So many people wrote the Peruna Co. that Dr. Hartman decided to furnish them the old-time Peruna under the trade name of Ka-tar-no. We have it for sale. If your dealer does not keep it we can supply you. Ka-tar-no is guaranteed to be identical with the old-time Peruna. Daniel Altschul, Distributor, 34 South Third Street, Newark, Ohio.

NEWARK SHRINERS ATTEND BANQUET AT COLUMBUS

A number of Newark Shriners attended the initiation and banquet of Aladdin Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, in Columbus Friday afternoon and evening.

The Newark men who were in attendance were U. O. Stevens, W. F. Upson, O. C. Parrill, George D. Orr, C. L. V. Holtz, Fred G. Speer, Ben B. Jones, Frank Felix, E. G. Turk, Jesse Elliott, Charles Gabke, Woods Kinsey, Joseph Schri r, Frank E. Slabough, Marion Long, H. H. Harris, Frank Cherry, Charles C. McGruder, Albert Rennaigle, T. W. Tabler and J. A. Flory.

GERM LADEN DUST CAUSES CATARRH

Ely's Cream Balm Kills the Deadly Catarrh Germs, No Stomach Dosing.

Catarrh, which is bad enough in itself, often results in loss of taste, smell and hearing, and leads to serious throat and lung troubles if not promptly checked. The seat of catarrh is usually in the back of the nose, and its natural course is downward, into the throat and thence to the lungs.

Don't take any chances. If you have any symptoms of catarrh—stuffed feeling in the head, nasty discharge from the nose, sore "roat, or dry, hacking cough, get a fifty cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist, and begin the treatment at once. This remedy is not a "burning out" or "drying up" process. It is simply a cleansing, healing, antiseptic Balm taken through the nostrils back into the head and throat where it instantly reaches the seat of the trouble. That's the only way to effectually and permanently cure catarrh.

Catarrh makes you offensive to yourself and friends. Start using Ely's Cream Balm today, and in a short time you will be permanently cured of this nasty, disgusting disease.

PUBLIC INVITED TO ELKS MEMORIAL AT AUDITORIUM

The public is invited to attend the Elks Lodge of Sorrow at the Auditorium Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Ex-Congressman Ralph D. Cole of Findlay will deliver the memorial address and Attorney Ray Martin of this city the eulogy.

A splendid musical program by a male quartette and Miss Mary Henzle will preside at the piano. The Elk lodge will meet at their hall and march to the Auditorium in a body.

Try This on Grease Spots.
For very bad grease spots on the front of a cotton dress sprinkle plentifully with finely prepared starch and cover it with brown paper. Iron it with a hot iron for a few minutes, then wash it in the usual way in warm soapsuds; no trace of the grease remains.

TREUDLEY WILL TALK TOMORROW

Three hundred men are expected to attend the meeting of the Christian Men's Union at the Plymouth Congregational church at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, when Professor Frederick Treudley, of Ohio University, at Athens, will address the men of Newark. Prof. Treudley has not yet announced his theme, but is acknowledged one of the foremost speakers in the state, and his message will be of undeniable interest to all who attend.

The ratification of the officers elected at the recent meeting of the organization's Advisory Committee, when O. C. Parrill of the Pennsylvania company's local freight department, was elected president, will be a matter of business to be brought before the members at this session.

WILL REDECORATE CHURCH PARLORS

Considerable business of importance was transacted at the quarterly business session of the Fifth Street Baptist church Friday evening, which was attended by a larger representation of members than has been accorded such a meeting in many years. Chief among the items under consideration was the appointment of a pulpit committee, which will endeavor, during the coming two months, to invite such pastors to fill the local pulpit as may be eligible for the important position. This committee comprises Messrs. Rugg, Sachs, Hughes, Davis and Van Voorhis, and they have several names under consideration as possible candidates.

It was also decided last night to redecorate the Sunday school room, make important repairs to the auditorium and to install a system of electric lighting in the church parlors, eliminating the present gas lighting, which has proved generally unsatisfactory.

ADVENTIST LECTURES TO START SUNDAY

Mr. H. A. Weaver, the seventh-day Adventist minister who has lately located in Newark has announced that he will commence a series of lectures in the Adventist church, 25 Sixth street, beginning next Sunday night, in which he will show the relation that the present Turkish war sustains to the prophecies of the bible and the nearness of the end of all things.

In an interview yesterday Mr. Weaver said:—"The eyes of 100,000 Seventh-day Adventists are watching eagerly the war now being waged in Turkey." They see in the driving out of the Turk from Europe a fulfillment of the prophecy that declares that the Ottoman Empire is to be destroyed, and that it's downfall will be the signal that the end of all things is impending."

"For nearly a half century they have looked upon the driving out of the Turk and the drying up of the Ottoman Empire as a direct fulfillment of the prophecies of the bible and one of the last events in the drama of the world's."

Mr. Weaver has extended a hearty welcome to the people of Newark to attend the lectures.

There Are Two Good Reason Why We Should Have Your Business.

FIRST—Our association is not established for profit but for the mutual benefit of its members. Its earnings after actual expenses are paid are divided pro-rata among its members.

SECOND—We protect our members' savings by only loaning money on real estate after the property has been inspected by three members of our board of directors and has been approved by the Board. As a further precaution after the property has been appraised at its actual valuation only two-thirds of the amount is loaned to take care of any possible shrinkage.

IS YOUR HAIR SLIPPING?

The presence of dandruff and falling hair conveys a warning which is best to heed. At first the loss of hair may be so slight as to be hardly noticeable. But no matter how little may be the fall each day, it is working toward the same and inevitable result, and that is total baldness.

You may have hair enough today, but how about tomorrow and the day after? Dandruff and falling hair mean baldness sooner or later and demand the immediate regular and energetic use of Newbro's Herpicide. This is the original remedy that kills the dandruff germ and prevents the hair from falling out. It keeps the scalp free from dirt and dandruff and allows the hair to grow abundantly and naturally. In this means and this means alone can total metable baldness be prevented.

Herpicide does not stain or dye and has a most exquisite fragrance which makes it especially pleasing to the ladies. It stops itching almost instantly. You may be told that there are remedies "just as good as Herpicide." You cannot afford to take chances with nor can you expect to obtain results from genuine Herpicide. Insist on having genuine Herpicide, the Original Dandruff Germ Destroyer.

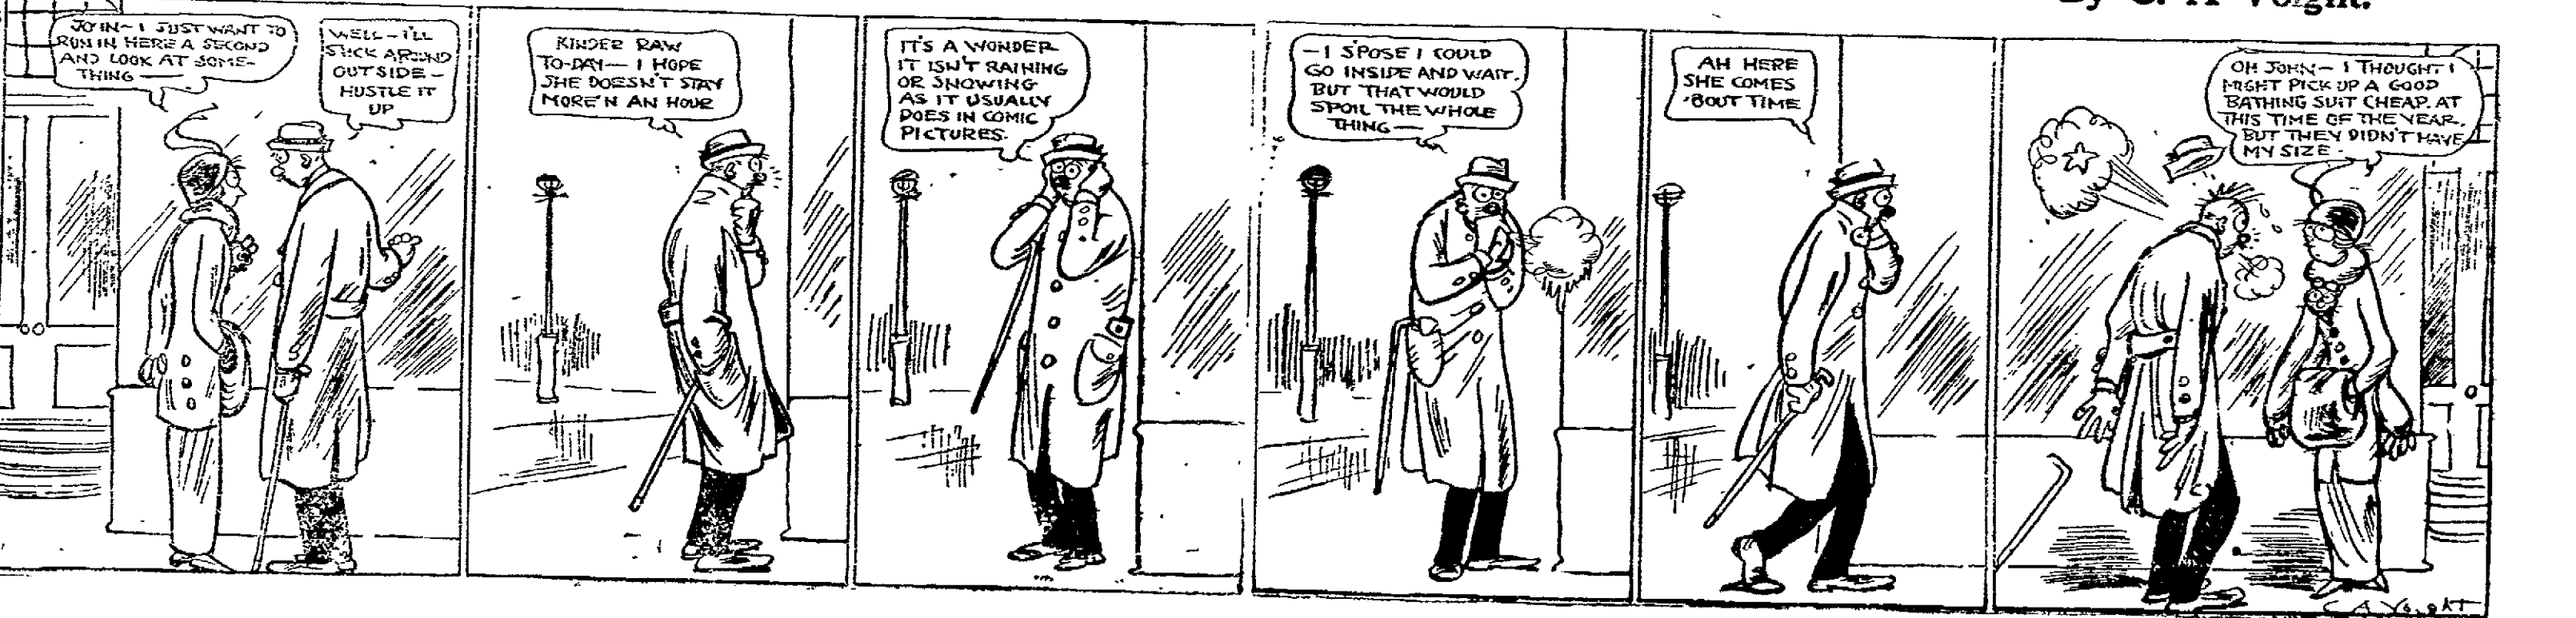

You can get a sample of this dandruff hair dressing and a booklet or cents in silver or postage to The Herpicide Co., Dept. S, Detroit, Mich. Try Herpicide once and you will never be without it.

Sold every where in 50 cents and $1.00 sizes and guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded.

Never before did the Moslem get so much comfort from the quarrelling of Christians.

There's at least one solid reason for expecting the Powers to keep the peace. Russia knows from recent experience what it is to be licked.

Nearly a billion eggs are in cold storage, and yet they were just as good when first laid as they are after being kept some months.

In the hunting season that has just passed, or will soon close, in certain states, Maine seems to have led in the slaughter, as it is estimated that 7000 deer have been killed, not to mention 120 moose and a lot of bear. This was all accomplished at a loss of twelve sportsmen, who gave up their lives in various ways, while fourteen were seriously injured and many were slightly hurt.

NOT A SOUP-HOUSE IN SIGHT.
(New York World.)

In view of the reports of a shortage of labor in all sections of the country, it seems almost incredible, that less than a month has elapsed since both wings of the Republican party were predicting idleness, depression and hardship in the event of Democratic victory.

This was the only thing on which the Republican factions were in agreement. Mr. Taft was no more apprehensive than Mr. Roosevelt. Mr. Hillis was as panicky as Mr. Dixon. Mr. Barnes was as despairing as Mr. Perkins or Mr. Munsey. Every important Republican no matter what his label, saw soup-houses and breadlines from sea to sea whenever the possibility of Governor Wilson's election was touched upon.

From all important industrial centres there now comes the same story of unexampled business activity, factories working overtime and a great unsatisfied demand for labor. There is no hint anywhere of fear or despondency or chill. On the contrary, there are buoyancy, hope and confidence.

It is easy to attach too much importance to political changes and policies in a country so resourceful as this, but sometimes when a corrupt and outworn system is seen by everybody to be near its downfall, the people take courage and make ready to profit by its removal. Probably that is what has happened in this instance.

Most of the terrors of tariff reductions which never took place were engineered by interested persons. Now that something practical is pretty certain to be done, even the recent mourners and croakers are admitting that only good will result.

THE BIRTHDAY CALENDAR.

NOVEMBER 30

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Some illness or accident threatens you, and you are especially cautioned to avoid crowds and be moderate in your attendance on social affairs. Your business will require your best attention.

Those born today will be active and impulsive and many accidents will be the result. From these they will learn caution, and later in life will be successful. A natural carelessness in everything will be their greatest fault.

1ST

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Attend to the things at hand. If this is done well you will have no time for new enterprises. If in employ, your best attention should be given to your own special work.

Those born today will make great progress if well directed. They will have many talents, but will not be able to decide for themselves what course to take. Their faults will be those of frivolity.

WOODROW WILSON'S EXPRESSIVE PHRASE, COMPETITIVE TARIFF

A good phrase is as valuable in politics as anywhere else, and one that Governor Wilson coined and is lately reported to have been used frequently in conversation has positive merit. It is "a competitive tariff." This he represents as the first object which the Democrats should seek to attain in their early steps in tariff reduction.

The idea is clear. It conveys in part, the very notion about the tariff which the Republicans entertained, or at least professed, in the days before high protection became a superstition. At that time, they were all for a tariff that would provoke active competition between American manufactures, and so reduce prices to the consumer.

What became of that rosy expectation we all knew. The long list of Combinations and Trusts, bulwarked by the tariff, tells the story. But in speaking up now for a competitive tariff, it is plain that Mr. Wilson means not only to revive the old plan of domestic competition, but really to make it effective by lowering tariff rates so that an undue pushing up of prices at home will immediately invite importations from abroad.

In that way lies the sure means of preventing huge mergers, with restriction of output and monopolistic control of the market, so as to more successfully rob the consumer.

The acquittal of Lawrence labor leaders should silence agitators who declare that there is no justice in American courts.

Senator Burton says he will be a statesman and not a patronage broker. He will be elected to stay at home.

MEDICOS HEAR FINE ADDRESS AT THE WARDEN

A very interesting and educational session of the Licking County Medical Society was held last evening at the Hotel Warden, when Dr. John Dudley Dunham of Columbus read a paper on "Motor Insufficiency of the Stomach," emphasizing methods of diagnosis and treatment. The meeting was attended by between 15 and 20 members of the organization, who gave the eminent Columbus physician a warm reception. Dr. Dunham is one of the foremost in his profession in Columbus, and his views were greatly appreciated by his Newark co-workers. The discussion of his paper, which brought out many interesting phases of the work, was led by Dr. H. J. Davis, and participated in by a number of local doctors.

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

By O. Terrence.

DOWAGER QUEEN ALEXANDRA WILL BE 68 TOMORROW

Dowager Queen Alexandra, widow of King Edward VII., will celebrate her sixty-eighth birthday tomorrow. It will be exactly half a century on the tenth of next March since the Princess Alexandra Caroline Marie Charlotte Louisa Julia, eldest daughter of King Christian IX. of Denmark, became the bride of the Prince of Wales. Her reign as queen consort was comparatively brief, but quite long enough to endear her to the people of the empire, and to attain a popularity such as few English queens have known. Since her last birthday the Dowager Queen has suffered a great bereavement in the death of her brother, King Frederick VIII. of Denmark, for whom she entertained the proudest sisterly affection. The King of Greece is a brother of Alexandra, and the Dowager Empress of Russia is her sister.

Another source of grief to the Queen Dowager was the recent demise of Caesar, the favorite dog of the late King. Alexandra is exceedingly fond of dogs, and in the gardens of Marlborough House there is a cemetery of her four-footed friends. Each grave is marked by a stone bearing the name of the dog and the date of its death. Caesar, between whom and the late King Edward there existed a great and mutual affection, will be more highly honored, as one of the leading sculptors of England has been commissioned by the Queen Dowager to design a memorial for his last resting place. For weeks after the late King's death the dog mourned and took only enough nourishment to keep life in his body, and it was not until months had passed that the keen edge of his grief was dulled and he became partially his old self. Caesar was a wire-haired terrier, and was noteworthy as the only canine in Great Britain allowed to pass the customs boundaries without regard for the strict quarantine laws.

Despite her sixty-eight years Alexandra remains remarkably youthful in appearance. Her figure retains its girlish symmetry, and her skin is as soft, smooth and unwrinkled as that of most women of thirty or forty. That she has retained her health and beauty for so long has been attributed to her diet, which is very different from that of the average Englishwoman. "The roast beef of old England" has no place in the Queen Dowager's bill of fare. She never eats red meats of any kind. Chicken, turkey, game and occasionally fish comprise her meat diet. Her favorite vegetables, and those she has found most conducive to health, are beans, peas, spinach and cabbage. Nuts she considers very healthful and nutritious, and she often has nothing else for luncheon. Walnuts and almonds dipped in salt are her favorite nuts. Alexandra goes counter to another British institution in her abstinence from tea. Not only has she dismissed that beverage from her menu, but she also long ago abandoned coffee, cocoa and wines, and water and hot milk are her sole beverages. She prefers toast to bread, and considers it much better for the digestion.

Much sympathy has been bestowed upon Alexandra and other queen dowagers, who have been relegated to the shelter after years of grandeur and power, but in the case of Britain's dowager that sentiment would seem to be wasted. Although her place has been taken by another, she has made a niche for herself.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

[From a series of elaborate chemical tests.]

Comparative digestibility of food made with different baking powders:

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of three different kinds of baking powder—cream of tartar, phosphate, and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time.

The percentage of the food digested is shown as follows:

Bread made with Royal Cream of Tartar Powder:

99 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with phosphate powder:

67½ Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with alum powder:

67 Per Cent. Digested

Royal Baking powder raised food is shown to be of greatly superior digestibility and healthfulness.

Mary Franks, Marguerite Guthridge, Rena Griffith and Mr. Taylor Franks.

On Thanksgiving day at their home in West Church street, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Phillips entertained with a family dinner of delightful appointments. Centering the table was a large cluster of chrysanthemums.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Gard of Columbus, Mrs. L. L. Jackson, and Mr. T. L. Rider of Worcester, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gard and Miss Lenora Phillips.

SNAPSHOTS BY BARBARA BOYD

THE WIFE OF A HYPOCRITE

"How would you like to be the wife of Brother Hopkins?" asked the frank girl.

The little group of friends had just left a meeting where the principal speaker had been the aforesaid Hopkins. "I don't mean to bring up a personal discussion of Sister Hopkins," went on the frank girl. "For that matter, there may be no Sister Hopkins. But what I do mean is, how would you like to be the wife of a hypocrite? We all know Brother Hopkins is a hypocrite, and we all were sitting there smiling cynically to ourselves, as he rhapsodized on brotherhood, and consideration for others, and such things. Everybody knows his life gives the lie to every word he said. And I just wondered how one would feel to be the wife of such a man, to have to sit and listen to him, knowing all the time the real man he is. Job says, 'The joy of a hypocrite is but for a moment.' But it seems to me the shame of his wife would be for a lifetime. I certainly wouldn't want to be in her shoes, would you?"

"It would make me a cynic, if I were," said one of the group. "Or patience on a monument smiling at grief," said another. "It wouldn't me," declared a third emphatically. "It would make me a divorcee. A man doesn't have to be a hypocrite. It's done deliberately. His conduct is accessory to the crime."

"I suppose some of these remedies might help the tension for the one who was his wife," said the Optimist. "But how about him? I think if I were his wife, I would just pleasantly and smilingly and as if his conduct were a huge joke, which every one saw through, expose him. When he was getting off some of his fine sentiments about consideration for others, I'd say right before a crowd of friends, 'But Tom, dear, don't you remember how you discharged Old Wilkins without a moment's notice, morning, you know, and found some one else at his desk.' Then I would say to just let him down a little easy. 'It isn't always possible to carry out one's good intentions, though I always thought Wilkins might have been given notice.' And I'd just go right on pricking every one of these beautiful bubbles he blows to distract the gaze of the public from the real things he does. He'd be mad; but he'd have to stop just the same. There'd be nothing in it. He couldn't even fool himself that he was fooling the public. I'd be on hand every time, smilingly and pleasantly handing out the real facts."

"I wonder what there would be left of him?" asked one. "Only a little scrap of flesh and bone with nothing about it that resembled a man," replied another. "Oh, I don't know," said the Optimist. "If you exposed him in the right way, that is, with the right spirit for the motive, you might start a spark of manhood somewhere in him that would grow to something really fine. There's thought and feeling of a kind, the wrong kind to be sure, back of all this hypocrisy. You've not got a phlegmatic, or apathetic, or commonplace man to deal with. And when you continually hold up to him the other side of the mirror, you might swing this thought and feeling around after a while to working in the right way."

"A pretty big undertaking," said one. "Yes, but better than writhing inwardly at the thought of his lies and deception, or becoming cold and hard and bitter."

"Or terribly meek," said the one who would head for the divorce court.

McPECK—HUMPHREYS.

Mr. Maurice McPeck and Miss Bernice Humphreys were united in marriage Thanksgiving day at the home of Rev. Mr. Frye in Neal avenue. Attending the bride and groom were Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Kramer. The bride wore a white suit with hat to match and corsage of bride's roses. Following the ceremony a dinner was served at the bride's home in North Williams street, the table having a center decoration of roses and ferns. Mr. and Mrs. McPeck will reside in Columbus where Mr. Peck is employed at the Columbus Auto Brass Works.

YOUNG COUPLE WAS SECRETLY MARRIED EARLY IN OCTOBER

Announcement is made of the marriage of Amos Paul Brown and Miss Selma Bueberbach of this city, the ceremony having been performed at Springfield early in October, the young people keeping it a secret until the present time.

Mr. Brown is well known as a vaudeville artist, having for a number of seasons toured the western circuits with a musical sketch. His bride is a daughter of Mrs. Anna Bueberbach of South Fifth street and has been employed as bookkeeper in the Arcade at Springfield, where the newly-wedded couple will reside for the present.

Food for Thought Here. A southerner, who has his own way of stating things, inquires whether the world is fair "in dealing with God's services." "We will criticize a long sermon," he says, "a lengthy prayer, or any lengthy religious services, but sit quietly through a two-hour political speech, a funny lecture or even a monkey show."

MR. O. C. PARRILL UNABLE TO SERVE AS PRESIDENT

(Communicated.) I note in the Advocate of Wednesday the announcement of my election to the presidency of the Christian Men's Union of the city of Newark, which was without my knowledge or consent, and since the announcement has been publicly made, I feel it my duty to announce in a similar manner my inability to serve. I am fully sensible of the honor conferred and appreciate it greatly, but I also appreciate that the work properly conducted would require more time than my business would permit me to give it. The work is a noble one and should be in charge of some one who can give it the necessary attention and push it to the very highest point of efficiency. Very truly yours, O. C. PARRILL.

Only a Fire Hero But the crowd cheered, as, with brandy hands, he held up a small round box. "Fellows!" he shouted, "this Bucklen's Arnica Salve I hold, has everything! It's a cure for burns, Right! Also for boils, ulcers, sores, pimples, eczema, cuts, sprains, and bruises. Surest pile cure. It subdues inflammation, kills pain. Only 25 cents at F. D. Hall's."

Daddy's Bedtime

Jessie and
Story — Her Funny
Pretend Party

"T'S the story, I suppose," said daddy as Jack and Evelyn climbed upon the arms of his chair.

"Of course," they replied. "And please tell us a truly story to-night."

"Very well," daddy agreed. "Your little friend Jessie has been making believe again. Let me tell you about it."

"A short time ago she was asked to a party. From that day Jessie thought of parties, talked of parties and dreamed of parties."

"Jessie would have a little party with her dolls and the dog and the kitten whenever she was given a piece of cake or had some candy."

"These little parties, while amusing, were not satisfactory. Jessie longed for a real party."

"One day Aunt Jean read her a story out of a child's paper. It was all about a little girl who had a lovely party."

"Jessie paid close attention to the story. After Aunt Jean had finished reading and she was sent to bed Jessie shut her eyes and lived the story over again."

"In the morning when she went to school it was still fresh in her mind. And Jessie began to imagine she was the little girl who gave the party."

"Oh, dear, if I could just have a party now!" Jessie thought. So just to try how she asked a few little girls to come to the house the next afternoon.

"I'm going to have a party," said Jessie Make Believe.

"The next afternoon as Jessie's grandma was getting ready to go out some little girls prettily dressed in white came to the door."

"We've come to Jessie's party," they said.

"Grandma looked surprised. 'I'm just going out, my dears,' said Jessie's grandma. 'And Jessie isn't at home. You may wait for her if you like. I haven't heard of any party.'"

"So the little girls sat down on the porch to wait. They waited a long time. At last Jessie came stealing in the back way."

"There was no one at home, and the house was locked. Jessie looked worried. She had thought that when the little girls came to the house her kind grandma could not help but make a party for them."

"When the little girls found Jessie's party was only playing games in a yard some of them went home and told their mothers, and their mothers said, 'Jessie Make Believe must be a naughty little girl to make up such a fib about giving a party, and they perhaps ought not to play with her until she learned to be a better child.'"

"Now what do you think of that?"

GRACE GAVER'S AUNT WRITES TO CORONER

Had Arranged To Take Charge of Girl After Mother's Death—Dr. Rheumant Wants Jury Trial.

A demand of a jury trial for Professor J. H. Rheumant, who is held in the Muskingum county jail on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of Grace Gaver, and a letter to Coroner W. E. McIntosh in behalf of the girl's aunt, who lives in McIntosh, South Dakota, and the day's developments in the sensational case involving the so-called Indian practitioner.

The letter to the Licking county coroner is written by Charles S. Watson, clerk of courts of Carson county, South Dakota, on behalf of a Mrs. Kennedy, a resident of McIntosh.

According to Mr. Watson's letter Jessie Fremont Gaver, before her death in this city on November 6, arranged through correspondence for Mrs. Kennedy to take charge of Grace Gaver. The girl was to have gone to McIntosh on November 11 and Mrs. Kennedy wrote her to that effect, but since that time has heard nothing from her niece.

Mr. Watson says that Mrs. Kennedy has expressed the fear that Grace has been "led astray" by a Dr. J. H. Rheumant.

The text of Mr. Watson's letter is: "Clerk of Courts, Carson Co., C. S. Watson, Clerk. 'Coroner Wylarch, Newark, Ohio.

"Dear Sir—Mrs. Kennedy of McIntosh, South Dakota, has asked me to write you for information regarding the case of Jessie Gaver, who died recently."

"Mrs. Kennedy is an aunt of the girl Grace Gaver, and feels interested in the girl, whom she feels has been led astray by a Dr. J. H. Rheumant."

"It seems that Mrs. Kennedy was to take charge of the girl according to correspondence with Mrs. Gaver, and had written to the girl to come here November 11, 1912, and has heard nothing of her since."

"Any information you can give regarding the case will be thankfully received. Yours respectfully, 'CHARLES S. WATSON."

Coroner Wylarch has arranged to give Mr. Watson the full particulars in the matter.

Word comes today from Zanesville to the effect that A. A. George, attorney for Rheumant, has requested a jury trial for his client. The defendant filed a motion in probate court Friday through his attorney, A. A. George, requesting that he be given a trial by jury, and that his case be assigned for trial at the earliest possible moment. December 4 is suggested by Rheumant as being a suitable day for the trial. Three days' notice is also asked for preparation by the defendant.

SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN THE HAIR

Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

There is nothing new about the idea of using Sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our grandmothers kept their hair dark, glossy and abundant by the use of a simple "Sage Tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of Sage leaves, and applied it to their hair with wonderfully beneficial effect.

Nowadays we don't have to resort to the old-time tiresome method of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skilled chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing Sage in the proper strength, with the addition of Sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy.

This preparation gives youthful color and beauty to the hair, and is one of the best remedies you can use for dandruff, dry, feverish, itching scalp, and falling hair. Get a fifty cent bottle from your druggist today, and you will be surprised at the quick results. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented.

BUSINESS MEETING AT FIFTH STREET BAPTIST CHURCH

The quarterly business meeting of the Fifth Street Baptist church was held Friday night and was attended by the largest number of members of any business session in years. Never was so much interest and enthusiasm shown and never was such a spirit of love manifest—all the outgrowth of the tabernacle meetings, for which we have reason to thank God as long as the world stands. A pulpit committee was elected by ballot and will take steps toward securing a permanent pastor, as Dr. Rowlands cannot be with us longer than January next. We all love him and hate to think of his leaving us, but God will send us someone else who will lead us into green pastures.

We expect great changes as an outgrowth of this session—changes for the better in every case. The lecture room of the church will be renovated and cleaned, the walls refrescoed and electric lights installed. Sunday will be a great day for the church, when baptism and the communion service will be observed. The Sunday school will assemble at 9:30 in the lecture room and at 10 o'clock march to the church auditorium, where baptism will be administered to several candidates. This service will be followed by the sermon and the hand of Christian fellowship will be extended to all who have recently united with the church, either by letter, experience or baptism, followed by communion. Let all members be present to welcome those coming into our fellowship.

All strangers in the city are invited to worship with us and everybody will receive a hearty welcome. Come and worship with us.

The chorus choir, under the direction of Prof. Priske of Denison University, will render inspiring music and the singing is always the best.

The Sunday school is growing in numbers weekly and anyone will be welcomed and can find a place in one of the large classes under a competent teacher. Dr. Rowlands has a large Bible class for adults, and will be glad to see any one who desires to study the Bible with him. There are classes for all ages.

The B. Y. P. U. meets every Sunday evening at 6 o'clock and young people between the ages of 1 and 40 years are cordially invited. Sunday evening service at 7. Come and we will welcome you at every service. Church Reporter.

HOME FROM HUNT EMPTY-HANDED

One of Newark's popular physicians who has an office at West Main street near Seventh, shouldered his trusty gun recently and started forth in search of game determined to do or die. After tramping several hundred acres he finally espied a nice, fat bunny and taking careful aim fired the afore-said trusty firearm. The shot was without effect except that it kicked up the dust in front of the ferocious little animal which greatly angered it. The physician began to work his pump gun and after firing three more shots at the bunny, the rabbit thoroughly scared, ran between the doctor's pedal extremities and anchored there for safety. The physician with a disgusted look, broke his firearm and packed up his trappings returned to the city empty-handed.

PENSIONERS WILL PLEASE NOTICE

Newark bankers received a copy of the new requirements for the endorsement of pension checks Saturday. The instructions, which go into effect Dec. 1, follow:

1. The check must be indorsed, in ink, by the pensioner in the presence of two responsible witnesses, who must sign the certificate on the back of the check at the same time. In case the pensioner signs by mark no additional witnesses will be required. The services of a notary public or other magistrate will not be necessary. Witnesses need not accompany pensioner to bank or other place where check is to be cashed unless it is required by party cashing the check for the purpose of identification.

2. The pension certificate must be exhibited by the pensioner to the witnesses at the time of indorsing each check, whether it be in payment of original, increase or quarterly pension. The number on the pension certificate must be compared with the certificate number appearing on the face of the check, and in the event that they do not agree the check must be returned for correction before endorsing.

The Theatres

To Auditorium Patrons:

In announcing the appearance here on Wednesday, December 1, of Graham Moffat's celebrated Scotch comedy, "Bunty Pulls the Strings," I am assured by the Messrs. Shubert and Wm. A. Brady that the present company is one of exceptional merit, gathered together from the original cast that presented the play at Collier's Comedy Theatre, in New York, for one year, and the western company which presented the piece in Chicago last season. In addition to this, owing to the fact that there is another company at the Southern Theatre, Columbus, next week, Messrs. Shubert and Brady have three companies presenting this excellent comedy throughout the United States, but they positively assure me that there is no difference in the calibre of the players, all of them in each company being especially imported from Scotland to present the play in America. It should prove one of the delightful comedy treats of the season.

Bunty Pulls the Strings.

"Bunty Pulls the Strings," that wonderfully successful comedy which comes to the Auditorium Wednesday evening, Dec. 4, will be given by a company of Scotch players organized especially for the coming production and selected by Graham Moffat, the author.

Mr. Moffat pictures the quaint people of a Highland village. The principal character is Bunty, a clever little lassie who manages her father's household. Her father, Tammas Diggar, is the big man of the community, an elder in the kirk, and supposedly a man of substance. His wife has been dead for years and he has three children. Bunty and Rab, who are with him, and another son who has run away to Glasgow. The story breaks over the little family on a Sabbath. Miss Simpson, an old-tongued spinster, has loaned Tammas some money which he cannot repay, because he has used it to keep his son in Glasgow out of jail. She demands the money immediately or marriage. An old sweetheart of Tammas unexpectedly returns and reveals the fact that thirty years before he left her on the day of their marriage, "waiting at the church," and she, ever since, has been referred to as the "wedding bride." Miss Simpson overhears a talk between her and Tammas, gathers that her money cannot be returned, and smarting under the rejection of her proposal of marriage, goes to the kirk, taking the services and demands that the policeman arrest Tammas. Bunty saves her father. She is affianced to Weelam, a local carpenter, who has turned over to her his small savings for safe-keeping. Bunty uses this money to save her father's honor. Until this time Bunty has managed everything but her father. After this she manages him, too, married herself to Weelam and arranges for Rab to go to Glasgow.

The company, which was rehearsed in London directly under the direction of Mr. Moffat, comprises some of the best known actors in the English and Scotch capitals and the principals are assisted by a company of thirty Scotch players, who give a home-like flavor to the play and its surroundings. The sale of seats is now on.

The Traveling Salesman.

Of much interest to our feminine theatre-goers is the news that the second act of "The Traveling Salesman," the James Forbes comedy-drama which will be seen at the Auditorium Saturday, Dec. 7, matinee and evening, represents a sample room in a hotel. Here are shown a full line of samples of the latest styles in coats and suits, which were purchased by the manager of the company to add interest for the feminine contingent of playgoers. Inasmuch as these gowns and suits represent the advance fashions for the coming season, they will no doubt attract many ladies to the theatre. The role of Bob Blake, the traveling salesman, is interpreted by Karl Hewitt, and the heroine with whom he falls in love at first sight is in the hands of Vera Wordsworth, an exceedingly pretty and talented actress.

The Girl of My Dreams.

Jos. V. Gaites, the successful producer of many musical plays, will present to Newark theatre-goers on Dec. 17, John Hyatt and Lela McIntyre, in the atmospheric musical comedy, "The Girl of My Dreams." This delightful musical play is the joint-work of Wilbur D. Nesbit, of the Chicago Evening Post, and Otto Trierbach, who wrote the lyrics for "Three Twins" and "Bright Eyes." The music is by Karl Hoschna, who composed the music of the same successful pieces. The story is said to be extremely farcical in situations and actors, and introduces several Quaker characters that have not been seen on the stage for a long time. Besides a splendid cast of principals, including Irving Brooks, Alice Hill, Della Niren, Nell Burns, Silvia de Frankie, Francis Gaillard, Frank McEwen, Adele Bouvais and Joseph Harris, the Harem-Scarem Pony Ballet, and a big beauty chorus is announced.

The Prince of Pilsen.

The great musical comedy hit, "The Prince of Pilsen," which was booked for Friday, Dec. 6, at the Auditorium, has been shifted to the Alvin theatre, Pittsburg, for the entire week and will be seen at Auditorium later in the season.

Al. G. Field's Minstrels.

Newark's favorite minstrel organization, Al. G. Field's Greater Minstrels, will be the attraction at the Auditorium on New Year's Eve, Tuesday, Dec. 31. Mr. Field claims to have the best show on the road this season, and his appearance here will no doubt be welcomed by everyone.

The Pink Lady.

"The Pink Lady" is unlike any American musical comedy in respect of one fact. The story that holds it together is adapted from a modern French farce, "Le Sirey," in three acts, by George Berr and Mardel Guillemaud, which ran for a season in its original form at the Palais Royal, in Paris. To present this play with music lends greater scope to its pleasing possibilities, but as an actual fact the book could be played as a straight farce and would form a delightful evening's entertainment. By adding Ivan Caryll's happy score to it and building up a beautiful production, Klaw & Erlanger have made it simply irresistible and these numerous qualifications account for its remarkable vogue since the first week of its presentation in New York, where it ran for a year through the best part of two seasons and more recently was accorded by a foreign press and public as being the financial and artistic musical comedy success of the London (Eng.) season, a most remarkable distinction to be awarded an American enterprise abroad. It comes to the Auditorium in the near future.

Mme. Sarah Bernhardt in Pictures.

At the Auditorium theatre there will be presented "Elizabeth" in motion pictures, these having been made in Paris, where the great play is now current.

Mme. Sarah Bernhardt is the central figure in this play, and her work is indeed marvelous, justifying, perhaps, the published statement that this play is the greatest success of her life.

The production is one of superb finish and wonderful sweep, and all the actors evidently have been chosen with extreme care, and therefore the reproduction in the films is a wonderful one, and an evening spent watching this presentation is well worth while.

Especially remarkable is the street scene where Essex is led to prison, and the scene of his execution, while the death scene of Elizabeth is such a picture as only Bernhardt could evolve.

Mme. Bernhardt will appear at the Auditorium Sunday evening, Dec. 1, and Monday, Dec. 2, matinee and evening. The evening entertainments will run continuously from 8:30 to 11 and the Monday matinee from 1:20 to 5. Prices 10 and 20 cents. No matinee Sunday on account of Elks' memorial services.

The Orpheum.

Manager Francis Boyce of the handsome Little Arcade theatre, is offering a splendid bill for his patrons' consideration this week and it has been getting the business and packing the theatre at every matinee and night performance.

"The Girl With the Golden Voice" opens the bill with a spectacular singing act. The girl is a handsome young miss, with a voice that is sweet and pleasing. Her wardrobe is one of the best ever seen on the Orpheum circuit and the special effects which she uses make a pronounced and decided hit.

Hamilton Lee is a splendid entertainer and his playing of the xylophone was excellent. Mr. Lee being forced to respond to several encores. His playing of the musical tumbler demonstrated that he is a complete master of the difficult feat. Eddy & Tall men have a skit composed mostly of travesty work. They are clever musicians and their act could be improved by injecting a little more music into it and trimming down the dialogue work.

The Onri Troupe of Jugglers and ball rollers made a distinct hit. The burlesque work of the male member was clever while the two ladies of the troupe displayed much skill in juggling from left to right. Their act closes with three persons throwing plates to one of the young ladies as fast as they can pick them up.

The pictures were excellent and were much enjoyed. Mr. O. C. Murray has promised Manager Boyce the best pets that can be secured and the bill for next week promises to even rival the one holding forth at present.

B. F. Keith's Theatre.

Willard Sims, that inimitable comedian-actor, will present his great success "Flinders' Furnished Flat," as the headline attraction at B. F. Keith's theatre, Columbus, O., for the week of Dec. 2. In this act, Mr. Sims, in the role of economical man, wastes scores of bolts of perfectly good wall paper in his mad attempt to paper his room. The act is one long scream of laughter from beginning to end.

Eddie Leonard, the world-famous minstrel star and soft shoe dancer, will be the extra added attraction of the big bill. Mr. Leonard will be assisted by Mabel Russell, a dancing comedienne.

McKay and Cantwell, the "Two Jolly Fellows" will present song, talk and comedy under the name of "A Breeze From Broadway."

The Willis Family, two sisters and their two brothers, will play various instruments and sing new songs. This is an English offering, although the Willis Family has traveled all over the world.

Miss Elizabeth Otto, the young piano player, will make her first appearance in Columbus. Miss Otto is one of the most successful in her line and her work has been praised throughout the east.

Maxine Brothers and Bobby will appear in an aerial acrobatic act. The Maxines are tall, handsome athletes, but Bobby is a tiny dog.

Winslow and Stryker will present a skating flirtation.

Another act will be added, and there will be plenty of Pathe Motion Pictures to open and close. Out-of-town patrons always welcome.

HENRY B. HARRIS PRESENTS JAS. FORBES COMEDY SUCCESS

THE TRAVELING SALESMAN

The Mazda Theatre.

The Kerry Gow, in three reels. For more than thirty years, Mr. Joseph Murphy, the noted actor, presented this famous play from his own pen. Kalem has purchased the photo-play rights from Mr. Murphy and has produced every scene of the romantic drama in the authentic locations in Ireland. You will see the Lakes of Killarney, the Gap of Dunloe, the picturesque highways of Old Ireland, and many typical humorous types. One thrill follows another, an exciting steeple chase and a daring escape from an old prison being among the features. This great play will be shown Monday afternoon and evening at the Mazda, where the best pictures are shown.

Sunday at the Grand.

"Lord Browning and Cinderella," with Maurice Costello in the leading role. "The Old Reporter," a strong Edison drama. "A Trip to Mount Ranier," a splendid Pathe scenic of the "Seeing America First" series. Standing out above all the others is the panoramic picture of Mirror Lake. It would be difficult to exaggerate the beauties of this view. The camera work and photography fully match the marvelous scenery. 3041

HANNIBAL CELEBRATES TODAY BIRTHDAY OF "SAM" CLEMENS

Hannibal, Mo., is the Mecca toward which hundreds of devout pilgrims will turn today to visit the boyhood home of Samuel Langhorne Clemens, who was born at Florida, near that city, seventy-seven years ago, November 30, 1835. Already the people of Hannibal have commenced to plan for a Mark Twain centennial celebration twenty-three years hence, and it is promised that the observance will be on a scale that will surpass all previous affairs of this kind. A start has been made by transforming the Clemens homestead, a two-story box-like structure of ancient type on Hill street, into a permanent Mark Twain memorial museum. This institution is owned and managed by the city of Hannibal. In it are many rare souvenirs of Hannibal's distinguished son, and the collection is constantly being added to. Many former schoolmates and boyhood chums of "Sam" Clemens are members of the Mark Twain Mountaineer Association, and all have contributed to the limit of their ability in the projects for perpetuating the memory of the great humorist and philosopher.

It was in the Clemens house in Hannibal that little "Sam" Clemens dreamed the dreams that were destined to make the whole world happier and more cheerful, and it was in the vicinity of that old homestead that most of the incidents related in "Tom Sawyer" occurred. The memorial tablet on the building reads:

"Mark Twain's life teaches That poverty is an incentive rather than a bar; and that any boy, however humble his birth and surroundings, May by honesty and industry Accomplish great things."

Additional interest is given to Mark Twain's birthday anniversary by the recent publication of Albert Bigelow Paine's biography, in which the real Clemens is pictured by one who had the advantage of years of close association with the master humorist. To many people the most startling revelation of this work was contained in the chapters on Mark Twain's religious views, although those who knew him were well aware of his "infidelity." It was only due to the influence of his wife, who was deeply religious, that Mr. Clemens did not openly and bitterly attack what he termed the "superstitious mummy" of the popular religion. The influence of Mrs. Clemens alone prevented her husband from sharing the fame of Col. Robert G. Ingersoll. It is related that the only letter written by Mr. Clemens during his last visit to England was addressed to Philip Vivian, praising "that English author for his work, 'The Churches and Modern Thought,' in which an attempt is made to show that Christianity is false, that its dogmas can no longer be accepted by men of intellect, and that it is bound to be superseded."

Few people know that Mr. Clemens was not the original "Mark Twain." It has lately been discovered that a southern journalist, Isaiah Sellers, used that name in contributions to the New Orleans Picayune long before it was adopted by the eminent Missourian.

Mark Twain is one of a great galaxy of distinguished men born on the last

SOME OF BUNTY'S REFLECTIONS.

"BUNTY PULLS THE STRINGS."

A Plain Woman.

Most of the contented wummin are plain.

An angry wumman turns out a clean washin'.

There's nae progress w/out something new, and I'm not among the wummin who believe that the new thing is necessarily scandalous.

A plain lassie is often more important than she thinks. What would be some of men w/out her? Is a terrible thing to think about. In the house and in the shop she is often the only capable wumman to be found, because she is born w/out foolishness. That's one of the compensations of the plain wumman, but she does no' always know it.

Sometimes a plain wumman wishes she was beautiful as a lily; then she cud take her pick of the men. It's my opinion there's no much choice among them.

No wumman is so plain she canna be gild merchandise for any man that's a man. She must be an airly riser, a gild washer, an experienced plain cook and economical in her household affairs. Aye, and she must lairn obedence—when 'tis convenient. Never let your man think he's no' the master, but be sure you manage him yourself.

Some wumman has to manage nearly every man in the world, and it's a most unfortunate man who will not be managed.

Wummin make a great mistake when they think a' men cares about is to see ye lookin' bonnie. It's true that he disna' want a wumman around lookin' like a hen that's been out in the rain. No matter how plain ye are, ye maun continue to look attractive enough for a kiss, but it's easy if ye are a wumman of sense.

Even though ye are plain dinna' be so plain as ye look.

I see ye've had a disappointment, but ye canna arrest man simply because he refuses to marry you.

Oh, aye, but she's a peely wally looking object.

If he did leave me on the auld blotted page, surely that's nobody's business but my ain.

HAD ECZEMA. TWENTY YEARS

And Was Cured Completely in Two Weeks Time by the Use of Goodhair Soap.

"Gentlemen: I have been sick, I may say, for the last 20 years; went to Hot Springs, St. Paul, Minn., and Indiana, and was benefited while there but when I came home it was the same old story. My God, I would lie awake at night and scratch until I was weak and exhausted. Then I might sleep for an hour, but my sleep would only be the cause of more torture when I would wake up. My itching seems to be the worst on my head, face, arms and legs. Sometimes the burning sensations are enough to drive me crazy. There are no sores of any kind on me, only a dry scaly skin, or it is raw and very tender. I have spent a fortune in medicine, have taken—would use a remedy by the dozen; would use a box of Goodhair Soap at your convenience, I could not say how many bottles of it before.

I have told three friends of mine who are so troubled, but they said they could not get that soap here. The drug clerk said he had not heard of it before.

I shall never forget the kindness of Dr. Hughes of Garrett, Ind. He has done everything in his power for me. Everything he has heard of he has told me to do, and now through his kindness AND YOUR WONDERFUL SOAP, I hope to spend a few happy and peaceful days or months on this earth. Hoping you will send me a box of Goodhair Soap at your convenience, I remain, with many thanks for your trouble."

Fate of Elfrida

Elfrida Mooner had been well brought up. Her mother had seen to that with the painstaking care of one who herself has learned through experience.

Elfrida knew at once when confronted by a bouillon spoon that it was not a cream scoop and she had a great scorn for a young man who walked on the wrong side of one upon the street. She always signed her formal letters "Most cordially yours," and spoke of her mother as "m-mah," and with the accent carefully placed on the last syllable.

So it is easily realized that tremendous self-control was required on Elfrida's part to endure the young man who sat next to her at the dance given by the Royal Order of Brothers of Something-or-Other in Elton Corners, where she was visiting some hitherto unknown cousins.

When the young man at the dance had broken the ice by saying that it was a pretty party Elfrida had recalled. He had not been introduced! Everybody seemed to know everybody else in this town and she could not get used to such a situation.

There was something familiar about the young man's face as Elfrida stared at him, but when the full sweep of recollection rolled across her and she recalled vividly that she had seen him in Reston's butcher shop Elfrida almost choked. He was a nice looking young man. Dimly she recalled that his father was Reston, who owned the shop. Perhaps this young man cut off steaks and sliced bacon!

"I think not," Elfrida said faintly when young Reston asked if she would dance that waltz.

"All right; the next one, then," he said as a matter of course. Then he went to hunt for another partner. Elfrida's cousins listened wondering a moment later to her fire of questions and her tale of woe.

"Why on earth shouldn't Ned Reston ask you to dance?" they inquired. "He goes with every one, and we've grown up with him! He went to the college across the river and is good looking! Why shouldn't he go to the same parties as we?"

Her sense of being wronged was hard to maintain, because young Reston had proved himself a good dancer when he had come back and taken his waltz. Elfrida had touched his arm with the tips of her fingers and had tried not to breathe as she went through the ordeal.

The next night Ned Reston called and her cousins seemed to assume that the call was meant for their guest, for they gradually disappeared and left her the burden of entertaining him. Only a strict sense of duty to a guest under one's roof prevented her from rising and bidding him good night. She resolved in a kind of cold fury to have it out with her cousins after he left, and it was when she was taking out her hairpins later that she realized with a start that she had forgotten to do so. She had been thinking about a western story that Reston had told her. In angry disgust she admitted that he could talk well. Still, the taint of the butcher shop hung over it all.

Elfrida writhed the next day when her cousins frankly joked her about her "catch." She felt disgraced.

When there were picnics and other festivities to which every one went in crowds Ned Reston singled out Elfrida as a matter of course and nobody acted as though it was in the least extraordinary. Nobody tried to help her evade him. It was impossible to make her cousins realize the fine line of distinction which made it right for her to evade him.

Elfrida felt her brain tottering, especially as it grew harder and harder for her to realize in Ned Reston's company that the situation was impossible for a well brought up young girl. Finally the young part vanquished the well brought up section of Elfrida's nature and with a little thrill of exquisite horror she realized that Ned Reston was making love to her and that she liked it.

It was some time after Elfrida's mother was told that her daughter was going to marry Ned, whose father was buying him a half interest in the leading hardware store in Elton Corners, that she discovered the dark fact that this affluent parent owned the village meat market.

"We'll never, never speak of it!" she gasped to Elfrida in anguished dismay. The trousseau was nearly finished and she really couldn't break off the match. "My poor child! How could you, how could you!"

Elfrida regarded her mother in meditative curiosity as though recalling the time when she, too, had felt that way. Then she laughed—not a well brought up laugh, but an amused chuckle.

"My goodness," she said recklessly. "Things like that don't seem to make a bit of difference to me now!"—Chicago Daily News.

Tastes nice.

Annapolis Football Yells are Awe-Inspiring Efforts

Whatever the result of today's Army-Navy football game, the cheering championship will doubtless, as usual, go to Annapolis. In vain the most disordered mentalities at West Point have sought to devise vocal efforts that would surpass the awe-inspiring creations of the Navy's dippy bards. For years the Middies have held the college yell championship of the world. Several new "songs" and cheers, it is reported, will be sprung by the Navy rooters today, but the old favorites will continue to have a prominent place in the program. The famous "siren" yell of the Annapolis boys is declared by experts to be the most terrible of all college cheers. It is impossible to reduce that ear-splitting combination of meaningless shrieks to print, but it is something like this:

Hooo-ooo-ooo-Rah!
Hooo-ooo-ooo-Rah!
Hooo-ooo-ooo-Rah!

Another navy classic is the "nine rahs" yell, which consists of nine howling renditions of "rah," followed by thunderous and long-drawn-out "N-a-v-y." The "automobile yell" resists all efforts to put it into print.

Among the newer cheers is the "Ya-Team" yell, the brain child of some gigantic intellect which runs as follows:

N-a-v-y! N-a-v-y!
Hoo-Rah! Hoo-Rah!
U-S-N-A.
Rah!

Y-a-a-a-Y-a-a-Y-a-a-Team!
Civilians have received life terms for less than that enormity, but all things must be forgiven the gallant sailor boys. If a gang of Socialists should create as much commotion as the Navy-Army rooters, the resultant rookus would be heralded on the front pages of the world's newspapers as another Haymarket riot.

VAPOR TREATMENT FOR CATARRH COLDS AND COUGHS

The HYOMEI vapor treatment is especially recommended in stubborn cases of chronic catarrh of long standing, but remember that the inhaler should be used daily as usual.

This treatment only takes a few minutes time before going to bed. Pour a scant teaspoonful of Booth's HYOMEI into a kitchen bowl of boiling water, cover head and bowl with towel and breathe for several minutes the vapor that arises.

You will be surprised at the results of this treatment; it makes the head feel fine and clear.

This method is also used to break up the worst cold in the head over night.

A bottle of Booth's HYOMEI (pronounced it High-o-me) costs 50 cents at Evans' Drug Store and druggists everywhere. Complete outfit which includes the little pocket inhaler $1.00.

No stomach dosing; just breathe; it is guaranteed to end catarrh and all diseases of the breathing organs. Booth's HYOMEI (pronounced High-o-me) is Australian Eucalyptus combined with Eucalyptus Antiseptics that destroy catarrh germs and soothe and heal the sore membrane.

SEES NO RELIEF IN SIGHT AMONG COAL OPERATORS

That there is little possibility of coal prices being lowered for the remainder of the season, and every indication that there will be an increase of at least 25 per cent, is the opinion of Wayne Collier of the Pan-American Coal Company, after visiting the Muskingum county mines of the company.

Lump coal on board cars at the mine is now selling at from $2 to $2.50 per ton, with mine run at $1.60 and fine coal at $1.10. "The car shortage," said Mr. Collier to an Advocate representative this morning, is still a matter of concern to shippers, and several of the coal operators have been forced to shut down their mines until something can be done by the railroads to remedy the situation. The Pittsburg Coal Company, one of the largest in Pennsylvania, has abandoned work for the remainder of the season, claiming that there is no use mining coal and then having no means by which to ship it.

The breaking of Dam No. 11 in the Ohio River yesterday morning further complicates matters, as the West Virginia shippers will now be unable to make river shipments for two or three weeks. This will necessitate the transfer of a large number of cars on various railroads to the Virginia field, with a corresponding decrease of facilities in the Ohio mining districts.
